Videoconferencing Day
Friday, May 24th

As a culmination to our study of the regions of the United States, our class is planning to schedule video conferencing with people living in other states. I will be using Google Hangouts.

We already have Grandma Klein lined up in California. We are looking for family and/or friends ... even more ideally, other classrooms ... who would be willing to chat with us about their city and/or state.

Please talk to your out-of-state connections and see if they could spend $\frac{1}{2}$ hour or less with us on Friday, May 24th between 9:00am-3:00pm EST.

Thanks for your help!
